April 11, 2024, Kharkiv, Ukraine

Dear colleagues and students!

The Professional College of National University of Pharmacy invites students and teachers to take part in the International student scientific and practical online conference “Chemistry. Science. Life” which will be held on April 11th, 2024.

The Conference is registered by State scientific institution “Ukrainian institute of scientific and technical expertise and information” (certificate № 599, December 11, 2023)

The purpose of the Conference is sharing experience, discussion of topical issues of chemical science development, and support for the first steps of our students in science.

Students’ research work is an integral part of the training of highly qualified specialists, working actively under the supervision of the teaching staff on issues that interest them.

The International student scientific and practical online conference “Chemistry. Science. Life”

Plan of the International distance student scientific and practical conference “Chemistry. Science. Life” includes the students’ presentations of their research results concerning current state of modern chemical science and environmental safety.

A list of solutions planned to solve the problems, to which the scientific and practical conference is devoted:

1. To determine the relevance of the topics of research works regarding the state of modern science and ecology.
2. To determine the level of research work of the students during distance learning.

3. To point out the importance of participation of students in scientific conferences to increase their theoretical and practical level of research works, as well as principles of academic integrity compliance.

4. To cooperate with student scientific societies of other educational institutions.

To continue conducting theoretical and experimental search and research works with the participants of student scientific societies, teachers of the chemical profile with the aim of identifying gifted youth and popularizing chemical sciences among students of education.
